ABOUT HUNDRED WITNESSES ARE CALLED

Witnesses and Veniremen Brave Inclement Weather to Come to Court—Chairs Occupied and Aisles Crowded—Spectators in Gallery

At 3 o'clock this afternoon Judge H. A. Pearce was qualifying jurors. From these veniremen twelve men will be selected to pass upon the innocence or guilt of Graves Kelly, charged with killing Deputy Sheriff Grady Granger. Both sides have announced ready. Indications are it will be late in the afternoon before witnesses will go upon the stand. While Judge Pearce was putting questions to prospective jurors, the court room was well filled with the nides. There were also some spectators in the gallery. Nearly a hundred witnesses, all told, have been summoned. Some prospective jurors were excused because of relationship to parties concerned in the outcome of the trial. At 3:15 o'clock this afternoon the jury had been selected. Morning Session. Not bluffed by a drizzling rain and severe cold which in the early morning hours had combined to form sleet, Judge H. A. Pearce of the Circuit Court, began calling the names of veniremen at 9:30 o'clock Monday morning, from which a jury of twelve men "tried and true," will be selected to decide the fate of Graves Kelly, of Houston county, who is on trial for his life, in connection with the shooting of Deputy Sheriff Grady Granger sometime ago. Men Were Cold. Prospective jurors and witnesses came early and the court room was a scene of men shuffling about, from one position to another, and talking on various themes prior to the opening of court. Space within the railing near the lone stove which furnishes heat for the room was sought by persons, many of whom had come from remote rural sections, despite the inclement weather. Day Witnesses. The first surprise of the morning session was the large number of witnesses called by both sides. The state must have called approximately 60 witnesses, while the defense called nearly as many. It had been intimated last week that neither side would call many witnesses, all of which goes to show the uncertainty of such speculation. Many of the witnesses had not reached town by 10 o'clock. Two "George Smiths." The most serious and tragic

AMERICAN HELD IN WARSAW JAIL

Berlin, Dec. 19.—Siegfried Paul London, a naturalized American citizen, is in jail at Warsaw awaiting trial on a charge of espionage. As the investigation has not yet been completed the authorities have not been able to communicate to the American consulate the full charges against London, which are understood to involve an alleged conspiracy to convey information to the Russians after the German occupation of Warsaw.

The authorities are allowing the American representatives the widest latitude to assist London in preparing for his defense. The consul and vice consul are permitted to visit London freely in his cell and have been assured they will be shown the formal indictment in due time before the trial, and be permitted to be present in court during the trial. London has been a hanger-on in the leading hotels of Warsaw for years as a commissionaire and guide. In those capacities he is known to many American tourists. During the Russian revolution London acted as a temporary correspondent for several American and British newspapers.

moments of life sometimes are fraught with some humor. This morning B. F. Reid was calling witnesses for the defense. He called "George Smith." Testified perfectly live "George Smiths," answered, both men being witnesses, one for the State and the other for the defense. Some plan may be adopted to differentiate them. When two men answered to the same name, Judge Pearce smiled as did others.

Owing to the fact that some witnesses would not answer when their names were called, Judge Pearce said he would fine any man $1.00, and then raise the price to $2.00, if this was not sufficient, when persons failed to answer when their names were called. This promise of punishment by fine had its effect and facilitated the work of the court and lawyers.

BRIDAL PAIR AT HOT SPRINGS

Hot Springs, Va., Dec. 19.—President Wilson and his bride, the former Mrs. Norman Galt, arrived here shortly after nine o'clock this morning to spend their honeymoon. They were met at the station by a crowd of several hundred people who applauded as they alighted from their private car.

The couple went immediately to the hotel in an automobile. The distinguished couple upon whom the eyes of the nation turned last night when they were married in Washington, came here to begin their married life in the quiet seclusion of the Hot Springs resort, in which they will spend the next few days. They were followed here by a large party of friends and relatives of both the bride and groom. Many of the guests are members of the Senate, House, and Justices of the Supreme Court and from scores of personal friends and relatives. Many they will answer personally from here. During the two weeks or more before returning to Washington to take up the official and social duties of the White House the couple will golf, motor and climb mountains together and as far as possible be protected from the prying eyes of the outside world.

600 MEN MADE IDLE BY FIRE AT KEY WEST

Key West, Fla., Dec. 19.—Estimates made public here today by fire department officials place the loss caused by the destruction by fire of the E. H. Gato cigar factory and seven other buildings last Friday at $150,000, mostly covered by insurance.

It was also announced that 600 men were thrown out of work by the conflagration. No plans have been announced for rebuilding the factory, and it is understood the factory is considering moving to Tampa.

FROZEN CORPSES USED FOR SHELTER

Berlin, Dec. 19.—(By Wireless to Sayville).—Describing the defense by Hungarian soldiers of difficult positions on Ken plateau in the Isonzo region, 6,700 feet above the level of the sea, the correspondent of the Overseas Agency who reached the scene after the receipt of a congratulatory telegram sent by Emperor William to the Kaschau regiment, says:

"The Hungarians with no sand bags at their disposal, at first took shelter behind frozen corpses. The whole plateau was covered with dead Italians, it being impossible to buy the bodies as the Italians kept up a continuous artillery fire. The wounded soldiers perished as it was impossible to help them.

"The Hungarians have been defending the Ken positions for two hundred days in which time 180 attacks were repulsed without the Italians gaining the least success.

"A special road eighteen miles in length and nine feet in width was constructed by Hungarians so that provisions and ammunition could regularly arrive. The Austro-Hungarian positions are provided with stoves and are comfortable."

POULTRY SHOWN AT DOTHAN IN JANUARY

At a meeting of the Southeast Alabama Poultry and Pet Stock Association held Saturday, plans were discussed looking toward the holding of a large poultry show at Dothan in the latter part of January.

If a suitable place can be obtained to hold the show, this event will in all likelihood be pulled off, and will bring many poultry fanciers to the city with their birds.

A committee was appointed to investigate the proposition and make a report at a meeting to be held at the city hall December 28.

FARMERS' ORGANIZATION WILL TRANSACT BUSINESS OF OVER $1,000,000.00

Washington, Dec. 19.—Farmers' co-operative marketing and purchasing organizations will transact this year a total business amounting to more than $1,400,000,000, according to an estimate made in the annual report of the office of markets and rural organization of the department of agriculture tonight. While agricultural cooperation in the United States is far more prevalent than is generally believed, the report says it is not yet upon a sufficiently strong business basis. For this reason the office has studied the various methods employed and is endeavoring to aid in perfecting them.

BLAZING WHEATY FURNACE BY FIREMEN OF GLENN, LOW FLAMED AT STARK

Gleason, Scotland, Dec. 19.—Firemen had to fight a cruel fall of blazing wheaty furnace today when a fire broke out in the building of the Thibault Company, Limited. Twelve thousand tons of wheat were stored in the building. The combustion spread rapidly, and the burning of the wheat caused the whole place to be a furnace of fire. The fire was extinguished by the firemen.

HIDDEN THINGS.
 (Memphis Commercial Appeal.)

Nature, our generous mother, has hidden from the science of man many secrets. Day after day men work and delve to try and solve these mysteries. One by one she gives up her secrets, reluctantly. There was a time when yellow fever was a feared scourge of the south, but our men of brains and science discovered the hidden thing and yellow fever is no longer feared.

And the people of the farms in Lyon county would take to the ed. It will be generally found that hidden under the table by a pet dog offers the same poignant effect in quickening the desire to solve, to find out, to locate the thing that is hidden. In the great cancer institute of Rockefeller, in New York, numerous medical students and experienced physicians work night and day in the hope of discovering this treacherous secret of nature, so long hidden. Some day it will be found and the human race will be delivered of a curse which is extending the death roll year by year.

There is but one temple in the world and that is the body of man and men of science have been exploring this temple in search of the things that are hidden there.

A CORNFIELD THAT THE WAR HAS MADE INTO A TOWN OF 27,000

In The American Magazine for December an article by Merle Crowell describing the galvanic effect of the powder industry on real estate values says:

"The next report of the Department of Commerce will tell something of that miracle; yet it can give only a hint of the industrial magic that has studded the Eastern states with mighty manufacturing plants since the nations of Europe developed military hydrophobia only a little more than a year ago. Many of these plants are new; others are old ones grown greater."

"War waved his red wand above a hamlet at the junction of the James and Appomattox rivers—and a city sprang up overnight. Where forests of pine and dogwood looked down on rows of newly planted corn last spring the largest powder plant in the world is standing today, and more than 25,000 men swear by it and at it. Already the buildings of the plant extend over 167 acres. At City Point there are 22,000 powder employees and perhaps 5,000 other men, drawn thither, for the most part, by the desire to divert a golden stream near its source; for the semi-monthly pay roll of the du Pont powder works is more than three quarters of a million dollars."

Planked on one side by City Point village, the original settlement, and on the other by Du Pont City, lies Hopewell, the most remarkable municipal prodigy ever produced east of the Mississippi River. Bret Harte would have gloried in Hopewell, for a mining camp in boom days must have been very like it; true, it lacks the mines, but when land worth $16 an acre a few months ago is selling for $16,000 a double building lot today, why should one delve into the bowels of the earth for further riches?"

Dodge Parade Makes Big Hit

Dodge Brothers Car Owners in Boston Have Celebration
On Anniversary.

All Boston is still talking about the big parade staged in the Hub by the Henshaw Motor Company to celebrate the anniversary of the arrival of the first Dodge Brothers motor car in Boston.

More than one hundred Dodge Brothers cars, driven by their owners, took part in the parade which formed a feature of the occasion and there were many strikingly unique and beautifully decorated cars. The first prize was won by a miniature submarine mounted on a chassis and named "Preparedness."

Many other prizes were awarded and the parade was reviewed by Mayor Curley. All Boston turned out to see the line of cars and motion pictures of the parade were shown in the afternoon at one of the theatres, those who participated being the guests of Mr. Henshaw at the theatre.

Malaria or Chills & Fever

Prescription No. 888 is prepared especially for MALARIA or CHILLS & FEVER. Five or six doses will break any case, and if taken then as a tonic the Fever will not return. It acts on the liver better than Calomel and does not gripe or sicken. 25c

Asbestos.
Most of us know little more of asbestos, the strange rock fiber that is almost as soft and pliable as cotton or woolen fabric, than that it is used in making fireproof theater curtains. In other ways it is fast coming into use as a "safety-first" building material. Not only does it protect against fire, says the Youth's Companion, but it is also a nonconductor of heat, and is therefore useful in preserving an even temperature. Most of what we use in this country comes from Canada, but Arizona is now beginning to produce asbestos of excellent quality.

Rain on the Diamonds.
Madge—Do you think Mr. Phan loves you more than he does baseball?
Maude—I really don't know. Last night he told me that my eyes were like diamonds.
Madge—That is a sign of affection.
Maude—Then a little later he said that when I cried it made him feel like a postponed game.—Judge.

The Art of Oratory.
"Did your speech change anybody's mind?"
"I wasn't hoping to change anybody's mind," answered Senator Sorghum. "I tried to find out what the majority of the voters thought and then convince them that I was with them."

A Luxury Denied.
"Don't you think we give too much attention to the frivolities of fashion?"
"Yes," replied the business man. "But the only way to make money is to follow the fads. I haven't any time to be serious."

Fine Apples From New Mexico.
New Mexico grows some of the best apples in the United States. One crop is reported of thirty thousand boxes of apples on a 75-acre orchard. One dollar a box was received for the apples, or $30,000 for the year's crop.

TELL OF STRANGE MEETINGS

Doctors and Nurses Relate Remarkable Happenings Occurring in the Military Hospitals.

The long arm of coincidence was never more strikingly illustrated than by the remarkable cases of hospital reunions related by the commanding officer of the Welsh General Military Hospital. Recently a nurse entered one of the wards, calling the name of a certain soldier who was due to take his medicine. In response to the call a man sat up in one of the beds, but further inquiry showed that although the surname was the same, the Christian name was different from that of the man she was seeking, says London Tit-Bits.

At that moment the right man, who was well enough to hobble about, arrived upon the scene, and then, to the amazement of the nurse and the other occupants of the ward, the patients recognized each other as brothers who had not met for many years. What is more extraordinary still, the two brothers had been in the same ward for several days without either being aware of the other's presence.

Even more extraordinary is the case of two men in another ward, who, when the roll was called, suddenly recognized one another as chums who some years ago joined the colors the same day. They had been close chums in the ranks, but subsequently drifted apart through the drafting of one of them on foreign service, to find themselves reunited in adjoining beds in the Welsh Military hospital.

On comparing notes a further string of coincidences was discovered. The two men, unaware of each other's presence at the front, had been wounded the same day, taken to the same base hospital, brought home in the same ship, carried to the same train and finally placed next to one another in the same ward of a home hospital.

Another curious case is that of a man who after being wounded at the front was admitted to one of the wards of the hospital. On his discharge he went back to France, and, wounded a second time, found his way back once to the same ward.

Ready, Ky.—"I was not able to do anything for nearly six months," writes Mrs. Laura Brasher, of this place. "and was down in bed for three months."
I cannot tell you how I suffered with my head and with nervousness and womanly troubles.
Our family doctor told my husband he could not do me any good, and he had to give it up. We tried another doctor, but he did not help me.
At last, my mother advised me to use Cardui, the woman's tonic. I thought it was no use for I was nearly dead and nothing seemed to do me any good. But I took eleven bottles, and now I am able to do all of my work and my own washing.
I think Cardui is the best medicine in the world. My weight has increased, and I look the picture of health.
If you suffer from any of the above troubles, get a bottle of Cardui today. Duty is duty, and it is worth it to get you, for it has helped so many thousands of other women to get on their feet.

When you get a bottle of Cardui, be sure you get the one with the picture of a woman on the box and the name 'Cardui' on the wrapper. It is the only one.

Opera Concert

The concert to be given by Mr. Bonawitz and his assistants next Wednesday evening at the opera house, bids fair to be one of the pleasantest of the holiday season.

Mr. Bonawitz' beautiful baritone voice needs no recommendation to those who heard him in Dothan last Christmas. On this occasion will be several grand opera arias which he will sing in costume, those who have never seen an opera, this characterization of the songs will present a very good idea of what it is like, and those who have attended the opera, will recall with vividness and beauty the scenes from which the songs are taken. Many of the songs are in Italian and will be sung in Italian. Mr. Bonawitz is generous with encores, besides a group of favorite songs which will appear on the program.

Assisting Mr. Bonawitz will be Miss Iona Peterman, pianist from Dothan, who proudly claims her own. She will appear on the program in piano solo. Mr. Henry Stewart, a past master in the delicate art of accompanying, will be at the piano. Tickets now on sale at the Dothan Jewelry Co., and also in the hands of the ladies of the Dothan Club, under whose auspices these gifted musicians will appear next Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock.

HOW SUCCESS MAY BE WON

Suggestive Article That May Appeal to Those Who at Present Occupy Subordinate Positions.

In the Woman's Home Companion appears a practically suggestive article entitled "The Girl With Note-book and Pencil," by Anna Steens Richardson. In her article, Mrs. Richardson shows how a stenographer can, by thinking and acting for her employer, advance herself in her business career. Following is an extract from the article:

"I have known stenographers who felt that it was beneath their dignity to see to the dusting of their employer's desk; who felt that they did not need to pay any attention to his supplies of pins, rubber bands and letter clips; who did not notice whether his pencils were sharp or not, or whether his ink wells were filled. It should be a part of every secretary's work to see that these things are attended to; that ink wells, paste pots, pens, pencils, blotters—in fact, every bit of the desk equipment—are in order for use, and that the desk and all its fittings are absolutely dustless.

"Two opportunities are open to the stenographer. One is a private secretaryship. The other is an independent business venture. Both are reached by the same methods—accuracy, efficiency and undivided interest. A good memory helps, but interest and that great gift of thinking for and with your employer counts the most. Lastly and just as important as anything else, remember to keep absolute silence, both in the office and out of it, on all subjects relating to your employer's business."

HEARTY EATERS ARE THESE

Commissariat Department of the British Army Will Have to Move to Keep Up With Them.

From close observation of the habits of the young Maori men in training in Auckland (New Zealand) for active service, it appears that the modern Maori has inherited, almost unimpaired, the genius for practical foraging which was one of the vital qualifications of his forefathers in the strenuous struggle for existence. They have secured the country in the neighborhood of the camp and won cels by the score from places where the white man never dreamed there was any edible wealth at all.

The ability of the sturdy Maori recruits to assimilate comestibles is a constant source of wonder to his pale brethren.

The camp rations are admittedly generous and sufficient in their way, but the canteen is a pleasure resort, and is patronized as such. Supper is an institution, not a meal. Here is one warrior's effort at 8:40 p. m.: Two bottles of raspberry, a tin of sardines and a big lobster. This is a typical instance, and yet everyone is up, merry and bright, for physical drill at half-past six in the morning.

Up to the Scratch.

One of the attractions at the Iowa state fair last year was Beachey, the aviator, sometimes advertised as the "human bird." As he was preparing for one of his flights, a large colored woman in a stiff starched white dress stood outside the race-track fence, about forty yards behind the aeroplane. When the propellers started, they created a small whirlwind, and sent back a cloud of dust and pebbles that blinded and pelted the nearest spectators.

After the flight, the colored woman stood looking at her soiled dress, with an expression of regret oddly tinged with pride that she had been the recipient of such distinguished attention.

"What you tink of dat bird man, Sister Jones?" inquired an acquaintance, who had just edged her way through the crowd.

Sister Jones looked up and smiled broadly.

"Say, woman, dat Beachey am sure some bird! Why, dat man scratched up more dust dan fo'ty chickens in an ash pile!"—Youth's Companion.

Band Carried in Motorcycle Parade.

A brass band of 25 pieces recently participated in a night motorcycle parade held at Milwaukee. The bandmen were seated in side cars, one to each car. The leader directed by waving a baton to the end of which was attached a small incandescent lamp.

The problem of illuminating the music held on the instruments of the various players was solved in a simple manner. A small globe electric lamp, mounted in a reflector and connected with a storage battery carried under the seat, was provided in each side car.

The lights were pinned to the caps, or coats, worn by the members of the band, while the wires connecting with them extended over the men's shoulders, so that they were entirely out of the way and did not interfere with the playing.

MILITARY CAMP FOR THE SOUTH

New York, Dec. 19.—A military training camp for students, business and professional men of the southern states, patterned after the one conducted at Plattsburg, N. Y., last summer, is to be established next April at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga., near Chattanooga, Tenn., it was announced here tonight by Major General Leonard Wood, commander of the department of the east, who will have direct supervision over the camp.

General Wood's announcement followed an inspection of many proposed sites by Captain John son, his chief aide. Fort Oglethorpe was selected because of its central location and favorable climate for out-of-door work. It is the only large army post now garrisoned in that region. The necessary camp equipment and supplies are at hand.

General Wood said it is planned to keep the camp open four weeks for business and professional men and that if applicants warrant, a second camp will be opened early in May to be continued until June. The camp for students will be opened July 5 to last five weeks. Thereafter, if conditions warrant, the camps will be continued.

Officers of the regular army will inspect as much of the functional education of an officer as is possible in so short a time. Special privileges will be offered for training in the work of cavalry, artillery, engineers, signal corps and first aid. It is planned to divide students into war strength companies of infantry, companies of cavalry or batteries of artillery.
